

Why recycling is important

Sending waste to a landfill site costs a lot more than recycling. There is a shortage of space in our landfill sites, which means that we have to pay a tax to bury our waste. This tax is set to increase every year, meaning that the costs of disposing of our waste are also set to increase. By recycling as much as possible you can help save money, which could be better spent elsewhere.

Waste that has been buried in landfill sites also rots down to produce harmful greenhouse gases that contribute to climate change.

60%

At present we don't recycle enough of our waste and we want to raise that to 60 per cent in the next three years.

Your new recycling service will:

- help you recycle more materials for the first time
- make it easier and more convenient for you to recycle more
- send less waste to landfill, with less negative impact on the environment
- save money on the tax that we pay to throw away valuable materials
